

Are you interested in video games?

How can video games tackle problems in health and health care?

The 2006 Games for Health Competition

Enter and win up to $20,000!

Three separate categories to enter!

- Two storyboard/treatment categories
- One demonstrable prototype category

“Harness the power and creativity of video games for health and health care.”

Konami's Dance Dance Revolution™ (DDR)
A Fun Game with Exercise Included!

For competition details, visit...

www.gamesforhealth.org/competition/

Submissions due: 11:59pm, March 30, 2007

Sponsored by:

Prize Partner:

Ben's Game, conceived by nine-year old leukemia patient Ben Duskin and Programmer Eric Johnston with support from the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

